Law and Paralegal Studies (PAR)

The Law and Paralegal Studies degree program prepares students for a career in the legal world as a Paralegal, equipped with the technical, communication, and critical thinking skills required to assist attorneys, judges, and other legal professionals in delivering legal services to a variety of clients.

While earning an Associate of Applied Business degree, students gain knowledge and abilities needed to provide competent, ethical, and in-demand paralegal services.

Through practical application of legal concepts to "real life" projects, students learn to investigate facts, conduct research on legal issues, interview clients, organize and evaluate case materials, draft legal documents, and communicate effectively with legal professionals. Students also gain knowledge of substantive and procedural law, concentrating on the most prevalent and current areas of legal practice.

Cooperative education experience provides practical hands-on training to help students begin a career as a Paralegal.

After graduation, graduates are prepared to excel in a variety of sectors including law firms of all sizes, corporations, charitable and non-profit organizations, government agencies, courts, and management companies.

Paralegals may not provide legal services directly to the public, except as permitted by law.

Law and Paralegal Studies Certificate (LAWC)

The Law and Paralegal Studies Certificate program prepares students for careers in the legal profession in three key employment areas: employees of attorneys (the dominant category), self-employed individuals who work for attorneys, and self-employed individuals who provide their services directly to the public with attorney supervision.

Students learn substantive and procedural law, concentrating on the most prevalent areas of legal practice, as well as general civil and criminal litigation practice.

Students earning the Administrative Assistant associate's degree with emphasis in the Legal Administrative Assistant track may wish to add the Paralegal Certificate to enhance their studies.

To be admitted to the certificate programs, students must have an associate's degree, a bachelor's degree, or Program Chair consent.
